Deferring the decision of increasing refining capacity of oil in Gujarat

1320. SHRI RAOOF VALIULLAH: Will the Minister of PETROLEUM AND NATURAL GAS be pleased to state:

(a) whether a Committee appointed by Government recommended Salaya in Gujarat as a location for 6.0 MMTA additional refining capacity in the State and why was the decision deferred;

(b) whether the expansion of the Gujarat Refinery at Koyali is doubtful due to inadequate space availability and if so, whether additional capacity will be created in a new location; and

(c) whether a study sponsored by Gujarat Foundation for Development Alternatives has revealed that the demand of white products will increase substantially, and whether Government propose to create more refining capacity?

THE DEPUTY MINISTER IN THE MINISTRY OF PETROLEUM AND NATURAL GAS (SHRI RAFIQUE ALAM): (a) The Expert Committee appointed by the Government of India had suggested in April, 1980 a few possible locations for a 6.0 MTPA refinery on the West Coast. Government after considering the report proposed to set up a 3.0 MT Petrochemical refinery at Mangalore.

(b) The capacity of Gujarat Refinery is being increased from 7.3 MTPA to 9.5 MTPA by debottlenecking the existing crude unit. In fact it has already attained the capacity of 8.10 MTPA.

(c) Additional refining capacities are created on the basis of various techno-economic considerations which include availability of crude oil, demand supply balance of products in the area, etc.
